Yesterday I was naughty because my classmate, Zoe, choked seriously.

Zoe and I both joined a swimming competition. At first, Zoe was faster than me. I was jealous so I splashed water towards her rudely. I pulled her foot to stop her. Therefore, Zoe choked seriously and her face turned red instantly. I was very shocked and I swam towards her immediately. However, she got hurt. I was embarrassed. My mum punished me rudely. I was so selfish by making Zoe choke.

I was deeply sorry. I should not pull Zoe's foot because it is very dangerous in the water. I should not be jealous. I should be nice to her because she is my best classmate.
